CHARGE OF FORGERY

HE USED FAKE SIGNATURES ON CONTRACTS.

Merchants and Manufacturers' Association Investigated Wilkes' Scheme and His Arrest Followed.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 10.—Reese Llewellyn, president of the Llewellyn Iron works, has caused the arrest of a young man named Paul Wilkes, Jr., on a charge of felony. It is alleged that Wilkes used fake contracts with forged signatures in canvassing for an advertising scheme organized by himself and his father. The prisoner was later released by Justice Downing on a $1000 bond to appear for preliminary examination in the city justice's court next Tuesday afternoon. The defendant and his father, William A. Wilkes, have offices in the Grant building. F. J. Zeehandelaar, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, is authority for the statement that Wilkes and his father organized, or made the pretension that they had organized, a concern named by them the California Industrial Publishing company.

Paul Wilkes and one or two more agents or associates in this company are said to have industriously canvassed leading merchants and business men of this city for subscriptions to a prospective illustrated pamphlet to be known as "Picturesque and Industrial Los Angeles." The main inducement held out to patrons was that the publishers would print, free of charge, a picture of the subscriber's place of business with advertising matter respecting the same if liberal subscriptions at a specified rate were contracted for.

The defendant is accused of having shown a number of contracts for a large quantity of the pamphlets to which the spurious signatures of some of the best firms of this city were attached. Mr. Zeehandelaar made an investigation into the business methods of the concern engineered by the Wilkeses and became convinced that many of these signatures were forgeries. Among those who were solicited for the subscriptions by Wilkes was G. A. Poole, of 216 Commercial street, representing W. F. Nordholt & Co., printers. To him Wilkes showed contracts purporting to have been made with the Llewellyn Iron works and the Maier & Zobel Brewing company. These corporations denounced the contracts as forgeries.

During a conversation Wilkes gave Mr. Poole to understand that he was in need of money, and asked him, as a matter of accommodation, to endorse his note, which he was sanguine then of being able to cash in one of the local banks. As security he offered Poole a number of contracts, aggregating in value the sum of $500. Among these, says Poole, were the two which have been pronounced forgeries and probably also those of Hoegee & Co., R. L. Craig & Co. and the Los Angeles Brewing company, which these firms also pronounce to be bogus.

Armed with a search warrant, the police went through all the furniture of the California Industrial Publishing company's offices in the Grant building, yesterday, in the expectation of discovering the documents which are alleged to be forged, but unsuccessfully. Wilkes declares that the alleged contracts were merely memorandums and that they were not shown as contracts to anybody.

DESERT RECLAMATION

WOLCOTT ON BIG IRRIGATION PROJECTS.

Tells of the Plans of the Government in the Reclamation of Arizona and Nevada Desert Wastes.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 10.—Before leaving for the west, Director Wolcott, of the geological survey, talked about the Salt River valley and other irrigation projects.

Among other things he said he calculated that it would take four years to complete the project and have the water ready for distribution. The director has just returned from Oyster Bay, where he reported to the president what was being done under the irrigation law. The latter is greatly interested in the work, and is anxious that it be pushed with as much speed as is consistent with safety.

The director said the reservation of land in the Tucson and Prescott districts in Arizona simply means that the experts are engaged in making an examination. Many possible sites have been accepted, and many rejected. It is impossible to say yet what are the possibilities of these districts. It is estimated by the officials here that the canal work on the Truckee river will be completed in about two years. But only a small tract will be brought under irrigation as the result of this work. Ten or twenty thousand acres, this being as much as there will be water for until storage room is constructed. Later, by raising the level of the lake, and building a subsidiary reservoir, a large tract of the public domain is to be watered. This will be opened for entry to homestead settlers in accordance with the provisions of the new law.

DYSENTERY CURED WITHOUT THE AID OF A DOCTOR.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery) says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tennessee. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.
